A Message From L.A. Perkins

Happy Spring -

I hope 2023 is off to a great start for you and that your business is thriving! In the spirit of spring cleaning, now is a good time to review your intellectual property assets and determine whether any action needs to be taken to protect your valuable assets. I am here to help.

I have exciting news to share; I am in the process of writing a book on brand protection and why it matters for business owners and entrepreneurs. It is my wish that all entrepreneurs and business owners are empowered to protect their brands and limit their risk of being blindsided and derailed with legal issues that can cost them their business and all their hard-earned money. That's why I am writing my book. If you have a question or there is something that you believe would be of value to include in the book, I would love to hear from you.

Cheering for your success!

WELLNESS

PERSONAL TRAINING FROM THE INSIDE OUT: BUILDING MIND- EMOTION-BODY MUSCLES

by Dr. Diane Abdo

Most of us have heard about tried-and-true methods for reducing stress in our lives, such as: Deep Breathing, Meditation and Stress Management Techniques.

These methods help us to focus and think more clearly by oxygenating our cells and brains, which contributes to calmer physical and mental states. Further, time-management, pacing our efforts, exercise, visualization (and other techniques) help us to reduce stress by creating a greater sense of control over our energies and our ways of perceiving, and therefore, experiencing, our circumstances. All of these methods, and others, are important parts of the stress management concept and bring us closer to reducing our physical reactions to stress...
